Pulling Against the Stream.

[From the Irish Republic of September 14th.]

So combative are we Irish in our natures that we are never quite content unless when opposing majorities. The more hopeless a cause becomes, the surer are we to champion it. It must be understood that the cause is foreign, and one that, if successful, would draw liberty down from her high place, and trample her in the mire. This is what might be termed the magnanimity of fools. Sacrificing ourselves on the shrine where our interests and the interests of humanity are sacrificed.

The inconsistency of the Irish nation in the United States, for the last ten years especially, has been the most unaccountable bungling and blundering part of our suicidal history. We say suicidal history, for, since the English invaded Ireland, there has not been one united struggle to repel the enemy. We talk of our O'Neils; but in their palmiest days they had to fight England and one-half of Ireland at the same time. We boast of Sarsfield, of Aughrim and Limerick, and follow his fortunes to the battlefields of the Continent; but did Sarsfield fight for Irish Independence? No. He merely fought for King James and Catholicity, against King William and Protestantism. The English people deserted their own King for William, and gave him the throne of England. The Irish took up the cause of the Stuart, and fought to force him on the English throne. What did Ireland owe to the house of Stuart? What she owed to all English monarchs, "blood and hate." An independent Ireland never entered into the thoughts of Sarsfield and his men, or, if it did, they never gave it shape and color to its action. Not only did Ireland never make a grand, united, practical move for liberty, but she has in one way and another, unknowingly, perhaps, thrown herself against all nations who dared to move against established authority. The descendants of the Old Brigade, in France, became the enemies of the Revolution and the people, and gloried to die on the scaffold for the cause of kings. In Austria, Russia and Spain, the same thing was repeated; and whenever you find the O'Dillons, O'Donnells, DeLaceys, and the other descendants of the Irish Brigade, you will find the props of the thrones, and the enemies of liberty. In our own day we find the same thing repeated. O'Connell offered the services of loyal Irishmen to put down the Chartists, should they dare to disturb royalty in England. It is justifiable and praiseworthy enough to hurrah for Irish liberty; but when you come to apply the same rule to others, it is another thing. Consequently, when the Italians see fit to protest against the temporal power of the Pope, and proclaim that tyranny was the same under all names, the Irish fly to the rescue. They fight for thrones again, and are taken prisoners and paraded through the streets of the Italian cities, to be cursed and defiled with filth by the people. "Slaves, what brought you here? To rivet the shackles on our limbs once more?" The poor Sepoys were blown from the guns in India by, in many cases, men who sigh for Irish independence. One half of our people to-day are wailing over the fate of Maximilian, and the rise of liberty on the ruins of monarchy in Mexico. It was Irishmen who defeated Napoleon at Waterloo; it was Irishmen who defeated Don Carlos in Spain, and restored England's friend, the virtuous Queen Isabella, to the throne of the Peninsula.

All these blunders—not to call them by any harder name—may have been partly excusable, and forced on our people by complicated circumstances; but if we of the present day profit by the experience of the past, and, even at this hour of the world's history, cut ourselves away from conservative tyranny, and take our place in the ranks with all true republican people, our country and name are not yet beyond redemption.

We have said that united Ireland has never met England in her march of conquest. England has conquered Ireland by detail—taking chief after chief and clan after clan. See the wars of Cromwell, where each chief fortified himself in his castle, and waited until the English troops came and laid siege to his stronghold. Each saw his neighbor attacked and despoiled, and instead of rallying under a national standard, remained in feudal isolation until Cromwell came and "howled them down." They hated each other as much as they hated the enemy, and, as a consequence, where are they, and where is the country? How much more wise "are we in our generation," and how much more consistent as a people, seeking after our lost nationality?

There are ten millions of the Irish race on this continent. Why are they here? The tyranny to which their country is subjected made life unbearable in Ireland. They come here, then, to escape slavery and find freedom? They do.

To what account have they turned their almost unlimited power as freemen in this great Republic? Have they been foremost in all movements for the advancement of liberal ideas, and have they drawn the sword where chains are to be rent asunder? Have they assisted struggling nations and people to shake off their thraldom, and helped those that were fallen to rise? Surely a people who have filled the ears of the world with their cries for Irish liberty, and have suffered so long and so acutely beneath the heels of the tyrant England, should be foremost in the ranks of that army that had "universal liberty" on its banners. Alas, the action of the Irish-American nation during and since the late rebellion is worthy of the past history of our race; and our blundering fathers have reason to be proud of their criminal children. Criminal, for we have acted with our eyes open, in the noonday sun, while they bungled in the shadows.

When the Southern States hoisted their black banner of treason and slavery, and sought to preserve the image of God in brute serfdom, it is notorious that the Irish in America, as a people, threw their whole force on the side of "caste and empire." We say their whole force, for the immense majority of our people sympathized with the South. We know the gallant minority that took the field for liberty and the rights of men, under the lead of Meagher. Smith, Corcoran, Mulligan, and other heroic Irishmen, who drew the sword for the Union, did more than men. We know that in every battlefield for the Union our soldier countrymen lie side by side with the American and German. They have written their names in the heart of America, and while Antietam, Chancellorville, Fredericksburg, Lexington, the Seven Days, the Wilderness, and other historic names exist, Ireland can point with pride, for her name is interwoven with the deeds that make them sacred. The Irish race owe their toleration in this Republic to-day to their brave brothers who died that the Republic might live. But outside of the Irish soldiers, what proportion of our people sympathized with the North.

We know that thousands who, even now, would draw the sword to re-establish things as they were, will cry out that we should not talk thus to American ears. Friends, the American people are not deaf nor blind; and they understand the situation of affairs just as well as we do, and they will not lend a hand to a people who have nothing but insult and hate for them. We have seen the floods of hypocritical tears that were shed over the untimely fate of the gallant Meagher by men who cursed him for his actions during the war. We have seen New York hang out her veils of mourning, and eyes rain tears, that were not shed—that laughed in glee when the tattered and torn banners of the returned brigade told them what havoc the Southern bullets had made in its iron ranks.

National crimes bring their just punishment; and ours has fallen upon us in being slaves to-day, while the slaves of yesterday are free. Had our people flung themselves heart and soul into the ranks that contain the intelligence and patriotism of the country, during and since the war, and taken advantage of the many chances that our old enemy in her blindness gave us, who will say that Ireland would not be free to-day? Had our people, by a consistent course, stood firmly in the heart of the American Nation during the Mason and Slidell affair, and worked upon the outraged feelings of the country, and offered two hundred thousand Irish bayonets to back the Government against bullying England, war would have been declared, and where would it stop? The Alabama case, and others, gave us such opportunities as do not offer themselves to enslaved millions once in a generation. We are always looking for opportunities, but when they come we are blind.

Countrymen, it is not yet too late to repent, not by vain regrets, but by bold, consistent action, now and in the future. You who would sacrifice all things for your country, and who are willing to do unto others as you would be done by, men of mind and liberality, to you we speak. Without the sympathy and assistance of America, though you had a million of men in your Fenian organization, you cannot accomplish your work. With America to back you and once let the American people feel that it is their duty to do so and they will do it, though all the monarchs of Europe protested—what may you not accomplish? It is useless for us to be forever tagging ourselves to minorities. Helpless themselves, they cannot help us. The great intelligence and ruling power in America are in the Republican party to-day. Do not be deceived by any political sophistry into the sweet delusion that any other party will rule America for years to come. Look at the political history of America, and there see that when a party had lived its day, and gradually dropped behind the times, and when the ideas became embodied and took political shape, in no instance has the old party been reinstated. The Republican party will be beaten, but not by any party now in existence. When, too, it becomes so old as not to listen to the voice of the new generation, and when it seeks to pull into the grave with itself the life that is to be, a new party will arise and see it as decently buried as it will deserve. It is in its manhood now, and made of such mettle that for years it will control the destinies of the Republic. It has for a motto, "Universal Liberty." This embraces Ireland as well as America. Let us fight this mighty power no longer. We are sacrificing our country and our race. England will make the most superhuman exertions, in the next five years, to supplant us in the estimation of the American people. She will "hire, bribe and fortify." She will take advantage of our shortcomings and point out to the Americans that if we appreciated liberty we would be with the party of liberty here. She will send her ministers and literati, and all her other plausible and cunning reasoners, of which she has such an unfailing stock. Sunday Schools, Christian Associations, Missionary Societies, banquets and feasts of love will all be taken advantage of by those long tongued cousins, who, when they cannot bite will fawn, and toasts to "England and America, one and inseparable, 'ip, 'ip, 'urrah," will go gaily round.

How can this be met? Let every Irishman in the land, who has an ounce of brains, and any kind of a tongue, spring into the ranks of the great party of liberty, and let the people see that we are worthy of their sympathy. Let us have a voice in the framing of the laws. Let us have a voice in saying who the representatives of America at foreign courts shall be. Let us see that none but the staunchest friends of liberty for all men shall receive our suffrage. The Republican party is, are pledged to universal liberty; but while we are of the party, what right have we to expect anything at their hands? Unless we counteract England, as above, we will be left out in the cold before another year. Let us take the front ranks, and force our most advanced ideas on the people, instead of being forced to accept ideas thrust upon us. We have pulled against the wind and tide too long. If we are not willing to sacrifice all things for liberty, be sure we will never attain it.

The Vote of the South.

Although the official results of the registration in some of the unreconstructed States have not been announced, statistics sufficiently accurate for practical purposes have been received. The full returns, where the full returns have come in, with the best estimates from other places, are as follows:

	White voters.	Black voters.	Total.
Virginia.........	116,157	101,400	216,027
North Carolina.........	24,000	60,000	108,000
South Carolina.........	24,000	50,000	74,000
Florida.........	5,500	11,000	[illegible]
Georgia.........	95,303	93,417	188,720
Alabama.........	72,737	88,243	160,980
Mississippi.........	44,144	78,029	122,173
Louisiana.........	44,728	82,860	127,588
Arkansas.........	60,000	30,000	90,000
Texas.........	70,000	[illegible]	[illegible]
Total.........	612,379	[illegible]	[illegible]

In commenting on these figures, the St. Louis Democrat says:

Of these States it is presumed that the white Republican vote, with a large proportion of the negro vote, assure a Republican majority in Louisiana, South Carolina, Alabama, and Mississippi, the only doubt in those States being in regard to the completeness of organization to secure a full vote. In Virginia there are undoubtedly twenty thousand white Republican voters, and, in spite of their unreasonable and absurd differences among themselves, it is probable that the Republicans will succeed. In North Carolina it is estimated that there are twenty-five thousand white Republicans; half that number would be enough to secure a victory. In Georgia we presume that not less than twenty thousand whites will vote a Republican ticket; there can hardly be a doubt of the result. In Arkansas and Texas, the strength of the loyal white vote cannot be estimated; and, though the Republicans are working with zeal and courage, it is too early to form any opinion as to the result of the election. Nearly the whole South, therefore, as politically reorganized, will probably be Republican—Radical to the core.

TRIAL OF JEFF. DAVIS.—A correspondent of the New York Times at Richmond writes, October 8th, as follows:

The dispatch sent by the agent of the Associated Press, purporting to give the programme of the Davis trial, is wholly incorrect. I have just had a conversation with a high "judicial officer" who ought to be well posted that point. The substance of our interview was as follows: The term of the Circuit Court will commence on the fourth Monday of November, and the trial of Davis will be the first on the docket. Chief Justice Chase will most certainly preside and contemplates getting through with it in time for the opening of the Supreme Court in Washington on the first Monday in December. The time of the counsel will be limited and the trial will be shortened as much as possible, for the Chief Justice has said that he does not intend to make it an everlasting affair. The witnesses named in the press dispatch may possibly be present, as they were the gentlemen upon whose enforced testimony the indictment was framed at Norfolk more than a year ago. They are John Goode, Jr., late of the Confederate Congress and at present a member of the Virginia Legislature; Captain J. Hardy Hendren, of the Confederate States Army; Major James F. Milligan, of the Confederate States Signal Corps, and at present one of the editors of the Norfolk Virginian; Col. Scarborough, a lawyer of distinction, late of the Confederate Army. All these gentlemen are residents of Norfolk; but there will be many other witnesses, mostly of the stamp of General Wise, General Mahone and other Confederate dignitaries. Chandler has consulted with the counsel of the prisoner, and informed him of the grounds of the prosecution, and it is known that the defense will be based, first, upon the doctrine of State Rights; second, the right of secession; and third, that the Confederacy being a de facto Government, and recognized as a belligerent power, it had the right under the laws of nations to wage war. The witnesses for the defense, it is thought, will be very numerous. The District Attorney has employed as counsel to assist him, in addition to Evarts, of New York, General H. H. Wells, of Alexandria, Virginia, formerly Provost Marshal General in the army, from Detroit, Michigan, and at present an aspiring conservative Republican politician of this State, and a nominee for the Convention. Judge Underwood to-day, before adjourning his Court, ordered the Marshal to summon a venire of seventy-two petit jurors and twenty-four grand jurors, the former for the great State trial, as it is anticipated that there will be many challengers to the array. The jurors will be chosen from white and black Union men. The responsibility for conducting the trial rests altogether upon the District Attorney, as there will be no Executive interference.

The public may rely upon the above as a correct programme of the great trial.

WHAT IS A DARLING?—It is the dear, little, beaming girl who meets one on the door step; who flings her arms around one's neck, and kisses one with her whole soul of love; who seizes one's hat, who relieves one of one's coat, and hands the tea and toast so prettily, who places her elfish form at the piano and warbles forth, unsolicited, such delicious songs; who casts herself at one's footstool, and clasps one's hand, and asks eager, unheard of questions, with such bright eyes and flushing face, and on whose light, flossy curls one places one's hand and breathes "God bless her!" as the fairy form departs. But there is an angel following her footsteps, who is not visible to us, but who is anxious to bear our darling from us, and in the mind's eye its white shadow flits between us and the darling of our heart.

Progress of the Railroad.

Under this head the Lafayette Courier has the following:

Chief Engineer Lewis and party, arrived at the Lenox Church at the north edge of Tualatin Plains, some fifteen miles from Portland, having passed through the "Cornelius Pass," and found it a practical railroad pass. The engineering work so far has been very difficult, owing to the dense growth of underbrush, requiring many trial lines with the level, and clearing away of brush, but notwithstanding these difficulties, the work has been done in the most thorough and [illegible] manner. It is expected that the engineers will reach the head of Wapato lake in two weeks.

Another Terror.

The organization known as the Grand Army of the Republic is giving the Copperheads a great deal of trouble. Individuals who less than three years ago were working in the dark mines of faction, sedition and treason in connection with those secret organizations known as the "Sons of Liberty," "Knights of the Golden Cirle," etc., are now utterly horrified at the idea of any secret organization for whose existence their fears may assign a political object. The reception of General Sheridan by the Grand Army of the Republic at every point in the North which he has visited, has uncorked all the vials of Copperhead wrath; and that organization, though composed of men who have attested their devotion to their country by periling their lives in its defense, is denounced as an association of "traitors." The Lafayette Courier,—we speak of this paper in this relation because its ignorance and malevolence fairly represent the average of these qualities in its party,—alludes to the organization as "a large armed military force," and exclaims: "With what bitterness of heart would Washington, were he now upon earth, view the Grand Army of the Republic!" Of course every intelligent person knows that the organization is not an armed military force. It is not a military force in any sense of the term, but simply an association of honorably discharged soldiers, designed to perpetuate the friendship which was formed between comrades in arms during the most trying period of the country's history. Its members of course retain the political principles they fought for, and have no notion of surrendering them. They are not "Democrats," and in this have they offended those who are now reviling them. "The Grand Army of the Republic" is an organization similar to the "Society of the Cincinnati," an association of [illegible] who survived our Revolutionary struggle. Of this society, Washington himself was President, a position he held until his death. Thus this great patriot was chief of an organization [illegible] similar to the association of soldiers which is now so vilely denounced by the Copperhead press. From these facts it would appear that the Courier's appeal in the name of Washington [illegible] the Grand Army of the Republic is not a very fortunate performance. It is worthy of remembrance that the Society of the Cincinnati was [illegible] by the Democrats in Washington's time quite as violently as the Grand Army of the Republic is now [illegible] by the same party.

TWENTY-[illegible].—The "official organ of the city" being in distress, the Council this week [illegible] to its relief with a gratuity of $123 58—a [illegible] large enough to help it very materially in its contest with its creditors. The only wonder is that the Council did not appropriate money enough to discharge all its debts, and get it out of Court. The "retrenchers" ought to [illegible] that it is very poor economy to allow their [illegible] to get in such a fix that, in addition to paying the debts, they must also pay the cost of having [illegible] by process of law. The Council had [illegible] pay up its obligations promptly, and [illegible] good, save costs. The "retrenchers" have been trying to prevent a collapse of the [illegible] by giving it during the last seven months [illegible] the rates of fees for the city printing, [illegible] was ever [illegible] paid for that service; but even this does not [illegible] to keep it clear of continually besetting [illegible] is now [illegible] with a bailiff [illegible] season of that summons; [illegible] appropriations as were [illegible]. It is not a [illegible] the [illegible] this time. A [illegible] financial ability ought not to be driven to the [illegible] his editor [illegible]. And [illegible] Council is [illegible] this state of things [illegible]. But let us wait [illegible] the Council when further [illegible] will [illegible].

Hayes, was narrowed to Richard Smith of the Cincinnati Gazette, and Gen. S. F. Cary of Radical Republican and Temperance lecturing fame. Spirit of the State Press.

The Guard, which for two or three weeks had not been able to find a topic worthy of discussion, this week discovers a theme which calls for a special effort. Perhaps it would be more correct to say that the Guard has for a long time been preparing and treasuring up the materials for its leading article of this week, and now fires off the whole charge at once. Several outrages of various kinds have been committed by negroes in different parts of the country during the last few months, and these amounting in the aggregate to just half a dozen cases, the Guard parades as a "chapter of frightful horrors which Radical legislation has entailed upon the country." Now this is really dreadful. Why did not the Guard while engaged in gathering statistics of crime, mention the fact that white men as well as negroes sometimes commit lawless acts, and point to New York City with its fifty thousand Democratic majority, where more crime is committed in a single day than the four millions of negroes in the country have ever perpetrated in a year? "The members of the Radical party," says the indignant Guard, "are individually responsible for every crime committed by the brutal savages whom they have invested with the rights of citizenship." Whom does that paper hold responsible for the crimes committed by the brutal savages of the Five Points who annually vote the Democratic ticket?

The Guard, as in duty bound as a Democratic paper of the straightest sect, repudiates Andrew Johnson. It calls him a "Rump President," and says it "don't propose to take any stock in the concern." As the "humble individual" has sunk so low that the Copperheads of Oregon spurn and reject him, he would seem to have reached the bottom of that Miltonic pit "deeper than the lowest deep."

The Columbia Press also spits contempt upon Johnson. "It says "there are few so credulous as to believe him honest in anything he has done." It closes an article upon "the man without a party," in these words:

> There is no pledge which he has made but what he has broken, and we can have no faith in any which he might make. Let him go to the arms of his trustless few. If impeached, let him "call upon the rocks and the mountains." They may hear, but the Democracy will be deaf to his cries.

That will do for a leading journal of the party whose platform last year contained two resolutions "endorsing" Johnson and his policy.

It is well known that the Press and Herald, the one representing the radical wing of the Democratic party, (which comprises nine-tenths of the whole organization,) and the other speaking for a small knot of dishonest politicians who are afraid to avow their real principles lest the party should be damaged thereby, have not been getting on harmoniously together for a year past. In its last issue, the Press contains the following savage article:

> We shall show our anxiety to avoid strife and dissension in the Democratic ranks, by declining to enter a billingsgate discussion with the editor of the Herald. He may denounce us as "raving exclusively on our own hook," and we care not.
> He may claim to be the authorized mouthpiece of the Democracy, and we simply join with ten thousand Democrats in the State, and laugh at his vanity.
> He may talk of "scabs," and "ulcers," and we warn him, lest he pick a scab on his own nose. The Democratic members of the last Legislature have not forgotten his efforts to elect J. W. Nesmith to the Senate, nor have they forgotten how he denounced them for not yielding to his humiliating demands. We shall continue to talk to the people in our own way, conceding to him the same privilege. We fear, however, that he will refuse all advice, and like the old woman under water, keep on saying "scissors" until past speech, and arising from the waves for the last time, cross his digitals in imitation of that feminine instrument.

From this it would appear that Mr. Dow has the exact measurement of his friend Beriah. The fight between the two wings of the party is a pretty one, but the "policy element" must go to the wall. They will scarcely be heard of in the next State Convention.

Just to give the reader a taste of the spirit of genuine Democracy, we copy the following from the Press:

> The Rumps are on the trail of a suitable candidate for the Presidency—one whose ignorance of civil law, whose debauchery and vindictive spirit, will make a ready instrument of oppression in their hands, and Sheridan is the man.

"Like master like man" is well and truly illustrated by the course of the Herald since Beriah's man Friday took charge of the concern. The paper is mostly devoted to balderdash and billingsgate about the "Puritans." Friday's education has been so one-sided that he thinks all political opponents are Puritans, and he shows us what he means by this appellation by using the term "cowardly beasts" as synonymous with it. Friday is evidently and unconstructed specimen of the celebrated five-to-oners, of whom so much was heard six or seven years ago. And he takes great comfort from the fact that the "Puritan" majority in the Northern States does not at most exceed half a million. Hence Friday cries "courage" and "to the rescue."

The Roseburg Ensign, though professedly a Republican paper, seems much displeased because the negroes did not vote the Democratic ticket in the late election in Virginia. It calls the result a triumph of "brute force," and says that the "negro voting experiment is a failure." A ridiculous failure is it, that the rebel element in Virginia is defeated, that a State Convention is called, that a large majority of its members are loyal men, and that Virginia will be reorganized, at once under the reconstruction law? The Ensign would probably call the rebel majority of 60,000 in Kentucky a "grand success." If that paper wishes to become a Democratic organ, nobody will object; but in that case the Union men of Douglas county will have no use of its services. If it intends to follow in its present "ridiculous" course, a decent regard for consistency would require it to give up its pretensions as a Union or Republican paper.

The Corvallis Gazette, the Good Templars' organ, seems to think that if a person does not believe in the efficacy of a prohibitory law to stop drunkenness, such person is a foe to morality and Christianity. We shall not bandy harsh words in reply to the Gazette's insinuations, but would merely counsel that paper to reflect a little more on this subject before expressing itself so dogmatically.

The Albany Journal has the following on the subject of impeachment. The editor of that paper, like many other persons, appears to have little faith that anything will be done:

> There has been so much written and published on impeachment, and so little action by Congress, that the subject has become stale. Besides, delay and postponement has nearly removed, by reducing Johnson's time and opportunity for mischief, the urgency for impeachment.

The editor of a New York religious paper, alluding to the memoirs of Lyman Beecher, by his son, Henry Ward, says:

> "He seems to have brought all the resources of his art to bear upon the work, which is so overdone, so steeped in syrup and fretted with frostwork, and stuffed with sugar-plums of all colors and whipped into froth and fury, that it is quite the most sickening compound of the kind we ever undertook to devour."

HIRAM SMITH'S
Ophthalmic Panacea!

IN BRINGING THE ABOVE-NAMED NEW REMEDY to the notice of the Public, the Proprietor begs to state a few facts in relation to it, as follows:

It originated in Prussia, where the science of Medicine is so thoroughly taught and practised, but owing to the poverty of its discoverer its wonderful properties were not known beyond the limited circle of his acquaintance, in which, however, it proved itself absolutely infallible in eradicating disease from the eyes.

He immigrated to this country, bringing his discovery with him, but seems to have been indifferent to the propriety of giving it general and wide-spread circulation, and, as previously in his native country, seemed only desirous of using it among his friends and neighbors.

The present proprietor was one of those neighbors, and for many years was a witness to its wonderful efficacy, and, after ineffectual efforts to persuade the inventor to more widely disseminate the knowledge of its virtues, finally became himself the possessor of the secret of its preparation.

And now, while he does not deny that he hopes and expects to make money by its sale, he must yet lay claim to a desire to benefit his fellows by presenting to them a remedy which does and will cure where medical science and all experience have failed.

He wishes it to be understood that it will cure all diseases of the eyes, whether of recent or long standing; but its greatest power is exhibited when it is applied to old Chronic Cases of long standing, which have resisted every other attempt to cure them, and which have been given up as hopeless and past being cured or relieved.

He asks those afflicted in this way to give it a trial, and so confident is he of its efficacy that he instructs all his agents TO REFUND THE MONEY IF IT FAILS TO CURE.

It has, within the past year, cured cases of GRANULATED LIDS, INFLAMMATION, &c., of FIVE, SIX, NINE, FIFTEEN and SEVENTEEN YEARS STANDING, evidence of which fact is furnished in the testimony of the following persons, living at and in the neighborhood of Harrisburg, Linn county:

ALEXANDER L. WALKER was cured of inflamed eyes, of nine years standing. Had been treated by eminent physicians during all that time without effect.

Mrs. MONTGOMERY, of Harrisburg, had inflamed eyes for over two years. For one year they were so bad that she could not work. Was finally completely cured by the Ophthalmic Panacea.

E. B. MOORE, of the firm of Moore, Garst & Baber, of Harrisburg, had granulated lids for six years.

NATHANIEL BELL, of Clackamas county, had inflamed eyes—a bad case—for over fifteen years.

ROBERT RAMPEY and W. D. PORTER, of Harrisburg; JOHN M. HOLLOWAY, of Linn County; G. R. WARD, of Lane County, were all afflicted, more or less severely, with diseased eyes, and were cured by the Ophthalmic Panacea.

All the above named persons have given lengthy testimonials to the facts as above stated, which may be seen at the proprietor's office in Harrisburg.

THE OREGON IRON WORKS.—The building of the Oregon Iron Works was burned down on the morning of the 2d of last July, with all its wood material, patterns, manufactured machines, etc. Many of the pieces of operative machinery were broken by the heat or so warped as to be [illegible]. The loss to the company was probably not less than $60,000, by the destruction of, and damage to, property. To this may be added the loss of time; say four months, during which time the loss of profits has been probably not less than $20,000, at a low estimate. In the course of a month after the fire the Company concluded to rebuild, and shortly after purchased the old penitentiary of the State, for $6,000, and immediately set about repairing such of their machines as admitted of repair and buying new ones to replace the destroyed ones. No one not acquainted with such work can have a just idea of the obstacles which the Company have had to [illegible]. Scarcely a piece of any of the machines but has been passed through the lathe or planing [illegible] and a great number have had to be re-cast or re-forged. But by indomitable energy and a spirit of [illegible] which nothing seemed able to thwart, the Company have finally succeeded in fitting up their buildings and are now at work in full blast, ready to turn out [illegible] kind of work which they were ever able to do. We visited the establishment yesterday on the occasion of making the first casting of consequence, from their newly erected furnace. The fire in the furnace is blown by an air fan driven by the engine. The [illegible] being loaded, fire was applied and in exactly six minutes the molten metal started to run. In four minutes more, several men were busy in drawing off the "liquid iron" and pouring it into the moulds. Among other [illegible], a large steam cylinder was cast complete in less than twenty minutes from the time of starting the [illegible]. The [illegible] or foundry is under the charge of Mr. John McHenry, an [illegible] workman, who [illegible] to the company on the day the old building was [illegible]. In the machine shop, there are a great number of machines at work—probably the largest number and best machines in any shop on the coast. This department is under the charge of Mr. Trengrove. The boiler shop is under the charge of Mr. Wm. McLaughlin. The smith shop has three or four forges built, the fires of each being fed by blasts from air fans. Capt. W. S. Powell has [illegible] of the pattern-shop. Mr. H. [illegible]. Mr. B. is an unusual competent man for this position, being capable of doing anything from drafting the most complicated machine, to [illegible], turning, planing or finishing up and putting together. There are yet some jobs of work to be done before everything will be in complete and successful operation as the Company intend to have it; but with the [illegible] they have [illegible], it will be but a short time till the Oregon Iron Works will be the most complete establishment of the kind on the Pacific coast.

THE "RISING STAR" SILVER MINE.—We were, yesterday, [illegible] from a well known business man of this city, now in Flint District, Owyhee, in which very [illegible] is made of the Rising Star mine, the [illegible] one-half of which is owned by a Portland [illegible]. This mine is the discovery claim of Moore & [illegible], and about nine miles from Silver City, and [illegible] one of their [illegible] at the time of their financial [illegible] and failure. At the time the Portland house [illegible] the half interest, the mine was under lease to the "Iowa and Idaho Company," with Mr. McQueen as managing agent. The lease is still unexpired, though it has not much longer to run. The letter above mentioned [illegible] of the mine, in substance, as follows: The [illegible] the mine and found that the Company had sunk the [illegible] shaft eighty feet. From the [illegible] of the shaft, a drift has been run back a distance of [illegible] feet, and in the opposite [illegible] has been run thirty-five feet. At the [illegible] the lead is eighteen feet wide. To convey an idea of the richness of the rock, the writer says, "a blind man can [illegible] see the crystal all through the mine." The [illegible] have now got out about five hundred [illegible] of rock, all of which looks very rich. From all [illegible] they are [illegible] to get out all they possibly can [illegible] the expiration of their lease. The time consumed [illegible] five hundred tons of rock was only [illegible], a fact which shows the facility with which the mine can be worked. The [illegible], of course, will make a big thing out of it. The writer says: "It is believed by every one here who professes to be a judge of mining, that [illegible] lead ever struck in this [illegible]. It is difficult to find out from the parties now [illegible] how much the rock yields to the ton; but [illegible] it is, from $350 to $500." We have [illegible] parties from various persons, all to [illegible]. We are not aware of [illegible] the Portland [illegible] intend to sell or work their interest, but with the abundant proofs of its richness, they have [illegible] a good thing [illegible] way.

THE [illegible] ROAD.—The proposition to open the [illegible] road, which for a long time has appeared to be [illegible] the sleep of [illegible], is about to be revived again, as we see by the Walla Walla Statesman of Nov. 1st, which says: "Our fellow citizen, Philip Ritz, Esq., left this morning for [illegible], and [illegible] by way of the Mullan road, which he will carefully examine and report the result of his observations to [illegible] at Washington, with a view to [illegible] an appropriation toward opening the road. It will be recollected that this question was up at the last session of Congress, and only passed over for want of time. Mr. Ritz is also in correspondence with the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, and will [illegible] to them all the facts he is able to obtain in [illegible] to the [illegible] of the proposed route." If this [illegible] had a few thousand such men as Mr. Ritz, the [illegible] is open [illegible] to build railroads [illegible] result less frequently in bush and [illegible]; or if we had one such with money [illegible], the Northern Pacific Railroad would be finished before next May [illegible].

PORTLAND PREMIUMS AT THE STATE FAIR.—The Salem [illegible] of the 4th inst. publishes a list of the premiums [illegible] at the late State Fair, in which we find the following [illegible] awarded to Portland exhibitors: To W. H. [illegible] & Co., first premium for the best one-horse [illegible]. [illegible] of East Portland obtained a first [illegible] for [illegible] fresh butter, and a second premium for the [illegible]. Esler Bros. took a first and a [illegible] premium for brooms. C. D. Snyder & Co. were [illegible] first premium for book-binding. N. M. Hawkins [illegible] a first premium for excelsior [illegible]. [illegible] was given a first premium for a patchwork Union star quilt. Mrs. Mary Buchtel received a [illegible] for a [illegible] work quilt. Mrs. M. Wilson for a child's [illegible] dress, received a first premium, a [illegible] for an embroidered skirt for an opera cloak, and a [illegible] for a child's velvet hat. Mrs. E. [illegible] Ritus, was awarded first premiums for a lamp mat and for a needle case.

WHAT A FALL WAS THERE!—During the greater part of [illegible], it will be recollected, the wind blew very [illegible] from the south. In the afternoon a huge fir tree [illegible] near Mr. A. H. Johnson's slaughter house, west of the city, blew down and fell with a tremendous crash [illegible] one [illegible] of the slaughter-house, making it finer [illegible] the walls of the [illegible]. One of the butchers, who was at work within the [illegible] had a very narrow escape from being killed. The tree fell upon and killed four or five hogs in the pen [illegible] the building. Since the accident, Mr. Johnson [illegible] men at work felling the trees standing within reach of the slaughter-house, to avoid any further risks [illegible].

[illegible] PEOPLE.—It must have been noticed by every one that our city has had for a couple of weeks, more [illegible] people than at any time for many months. From [illegible] around the city, we have had very good opportunities for observation in this respect, and we have come to the conclusion that at no time [illegible] the past year, has the city had so many temporary [illegible] during the last few days. The hotels are all [illegible] the Sierra Nevada, [illegible] took away a large [illegible] of passengers. Besides [illegible] who stay in [illegible] at the hotels, the saloons are slightly fuller than at any time since November of last year.

[illegible] FIRE DEPARTMENT.—Jo. Buchtel has just [illegible] a fine [illegible] picture of the three engineers of the Fire Department of this city—Tho's. G. Young, chief; W. H. [illegible], 1st [illegible]; and W. H. Weed, 2d assistant. All three are dressed in the full uniform of their [illegible] and each bears his trumpet. The picture itself is a good one. Would it not be a good idea to have [illegible] pictures taken of each successive board of [illegible] of the Fire Department, and to preserve them in a [illegible]. Each [illegible] should have a copy hanging on the walls of its engine house. In time such a collection of pictures would come to be prized very highly.

[illegible] COURT.—The following are the proceedings of [illegible] day in the Recorder's Court:

State vs. Thos. Ward; assault and battery upon Ella [illegible]; guilty and fined $50 and costs.

State vs. [illegible] and — Chambers; assault and battery upon Henry Fleckenstine; defendants demanded a jury; case continued until to-day.

City vs. [illegible]; drunk and disorderly on the street; [illegible] to jail for five days.

State vs. [illegible] Fleckenstine; assault with a dangerous [illegible].

[illegible] OF TIME.—The hour of departure from Portland, of the P. T. Co.'s boats has been changed to one which will much better accommodate the traveling public. Hereafter they will leave each morning, Sundays [illegible], at half past six o'clock. The boat of Monday, Tuesday and Thursday, will connect at Oregon City with boats from Salem, Albany and Corvallis. On Mondays, [illegible] and Fridays, there will be connection with the [illegible] river boat.

INFORMATION WANTED.—Wm. Erwin left Albany, N. Y., some 14 or 16 years ago and is now supposed to be somewhere in Idaho or Montana. His friends desire to hear from him, as they have news of great importance for him. Any one knowing of his whereabouts, will please communicate with this office. Erwin has been a sailor and a [illegible] since he came to this coast. He was seen in San Francisco about one year ago.

LARGE OF HIS AGE.—There was a boy at the Temperance House, last evening, who is only eight years old, and [illegible] one hundred and twenty-eight pounds. He "got his start in Yamhill county." In rather strong contrast with him, is a boy now stopping in this city, belonging to Bartholomew's Circus troupe, who is fifteen years old and is only thirty inches high. He never got much of a "start" anywhere.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT—DEADY, JUSTICE.—The day yesterday, was consumed in the introduction of evidence for the prosecution in the case of the United States vs. A. S. [illegible] et al. The defence will present their testimony to-day. The Grand Jury returned a true bill against —— [illegible], for smuggling opium, and "not a true bill," as to the charge of smuggling, against H. Hartlalb.

FROM ASTORIA.—The steamer U. S. Grant arrived from [illegible] last evening. Capt. Kerns reports that the Sierra Nevada was still at Astoria yesterday morning with no prospect of getting out during the day. The weather was very heavy. Nothing had yet been seen of the [illegible] or the [illegible].

C[illegible] CITY.—The Circuit Court for Clackamas county has finished its term and Judge Shattuck arrived home by the boat [illegible] day afternoon.

WILLAMETTE FREIGHTS.—Arrived per steamer Alert from Oregon City, yesterday, 113 sks barley, 15 boxes eggs, 40 sks oats, 684 bags wheat, 32 gunnies bacon, 1 bale mdse, 391 sks bran, 58 sks screenings, 6 bales woolen goods, 10 hf bbls dried apples, 6 bbls beef, 50 reams paper, 8 tons pig iron.

INSTALLATION.—There will be a public installation of the officers of Columbia Lodge No 36, I. O. G. T., on Saturday next at one o'clock. Their new hall will be dedicated at the same time. G. W. C. T. Beale and Rev. O. C. Stratton will be present and deliver addresses.

TO CONTRACTORS.—Col. A. R. Eddy, Chief Quartermaster of this Department, advertises this morning for bids to furnish the Government, at Fort Boise, with seven hundred cords of sound, merchantable fire wood. For terms, see advertisement.

EXPRESS TO FOREST GROVE.—Jamison's express will leave the American Exchange for Hillsboro and Forest Grove, at half past 7 o'clock this morning; will return on Saturday and leave again on Sunday at 8 o'clock A. M.

THE U. S. GRANT.—This little steamer has been thoroughly overhauled, her engines repaired, and she has resumed her regular semi-weekly trips to Astoria. She goes down again on Saturday.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.—The County Commissioners were in session yesterday. Most of the day, however, was spent in passing upon claims, and but little of public interest was done.

FOR SALEM.—On Saturday, the Alert will leave at half past six o'clock in the morning for Oregon City, where she will connect with a boat for Salem.

BARMAN BROS. offer to the public at San Francisco prices a large invoice of Gingham and Cotton Umbrellas.

BATHS.—To be healthy, keep clean; to keep clean, go regularly to the Washington Baths, No. 9 Washington street, North side. You can get warm or cold baths or the Russian steam, sulphur or vapor baths.

GOOD FOR OREGON.—Another source of revenue to the State has been created. We notice several shipments of Henley's Royal Balsam to California, and as soon as the bottles can be manufactured a large order will be filled from New York. The curative properties of this medicine are appreciated abroad as well as at home. See the certificates of several prominent citizens of the State on fourth page.

Notice.—At a Regular Meeting of Willamette Fire Engine Co., No. 1, held on Thursday evening, Nov. 7th, 1867, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That Willamette Fire Engine Co., No. 1, hereby nominate W. H. WEED as our first choice for Chief Engineer of the Portland Fire Department at the ensuing election.

Third St., bet. Alder and Washington.

[illegible] who desire FIRST-CLASS DENTAL SERVICES might do well to give him a call. He is making a NEW AND IMPROVED VULCANITE PLATE; the nature of his improvement consists in lining the entire concave surface with fine gold; it makes the plate twice as strong and one-third [illegible] thinner than the common vulcanite plate. It also prevents the acids of the mouth from roughing the plate, and from turning it black, which is a common occurrence. One-half of the common vulcanite plates turn black after being in use a short time, particularly where tobacco is used for smoking. His new style of plate admits of a very fine finish on the concave or palate surface. His office is the only place where such work can be had. The improvement is his own invention, for which he has made application to the United States Patent Office for a patent. He has been making this style of work for the last two-and-a-half years, and has specimens of the work which can be seen at his residence and office on Third street. This work has given satisfaction in every case.

PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER.

It is a real pleasure to us to speak favorably of this article, known almost universally to be a good and safe remedy for burns and other pains of the body. It is valuable not only for colds in the winter, but for various summer complaints, and should be in every family. The casualty which demands it may come unawares.—Christian Advocate.

PAIN KILLER, taken internally, should be adulterated with milk or water, and sweetened with sugar, if desired, or made into a syrup with molasses. For a Cough and Bronchitis, a few drops on sugar, eaten, will be more effective than anything else. For Sore Throat, gargle the throat with a mixture of Pain Killer and water and the relief is immediate and cure positive.

FOR NON-RETENTION or INCONTINENCE of Urine, irritation, inflammation, or ulceration of the bladder or kidneys, [illegible] of the prostrate glands, stone in the bladder, calculus, gravel or brick dust deposits, and all diseases of the bladder, kidneys and dropsical swellings, USE HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU.

DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.—These Bitters are universally acknowledged to be a sure preventive and cure for Fever and Ague, Flatulence, Heaviness of the Stomach, or any other like affection. Their effect upon the system is most miraculous; they give a healthy tone to the system, relieve all morbid matter, and in fact thoroughly cleanse the system of all impurities. In no case has it been known to fail, but on the contrary, new virtues have been found in its use. To those afflicted with any of the above ills of the body, the "Bitters" are offered as a speedy and certain cure. Try them and form your own opinion. Sold by Druggists and Dealers everywhere.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!
A Pure and Powerful Tonic,
Corrective and Alterative, of wonderful efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.
PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES

Prevents Fever and Ague and Billious Remittent Fever. Fortifies the System against Miasma and the evil effects of unwholesome water; invigorates the organs of digestion and the bowels;
Steadies the Nerves and tends to Prolong Life.

REMEDIAL PROPERTIES.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Sea Sickness, Cramps and Spasms, and all complaints of either sex arising from Bodily Weakness, whether inherent to the system or PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES.

NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME, GENIAL, and restorative in its nature, enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind; no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant; but is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants, with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated, and the appetite restored by this Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia; and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits, and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is conclusive, and from both sexes.

As a Genuine Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay, and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acrid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and [illegible] of the day.

The Passage.

FROM THE GERMAN OF UHLAND

Many a year is in its grave
Since I crossed this restless wave
And the evening fair as ever
Shines on ruin, rock and river

Then in this same boat beside
Sat two comrades old and tried—
One with all a father's truth
One with all the fire of youth

One on earth in silence wrought
And his grave in silence sought
But the younger brighter form
Passed in battle and in storm

So, whene'er I turn my eye
Back upon the days gone by,
Saddening thoughts of friends come o'er me
Friends who closed their course before me

But what binds us friend to friend
But that soul with soul can blend?
Soul like were those days of yore—
Let us walk in soul once more

Take, Old boatman, thrice thy fee;
Take, I give it willingly,
For, invisible to thee,
Spirits twain have crossed with me

Mrs Caudle's Curtain Lectures.

MRS CAUDLE COMPLAINS OF THE "TURTLE DOVERY" DISCOVERS BLACK BEETLES—THINKS IT "NOTHING BUT RIGHT" THAT CAUDLE SHOULD SET UP A CHAISE.

"You'd never have got me into this wilderness of a place, Mr Caudle, if I'd only have thought what it was. Yes, that's right; throw it in my teeth that it was my choice—that's manly, isn't it? When I saw the place the sun was out, and it looked beautiful—now, it's quite another thing. No, Mr. Caudle, I don't expect you to command the sun,—and if you talk about Joshua in that infidel way, I'll leave the bed. No, sir, I don't expect the sun to be in your power, but that's nothing to do with it. I talk about one thing, and you always start another. But that's your art.

"I'm sure a woman might as well be buried alive as live here. In fact, I'm buried alive, I feel it. I stood at the window three hours this blessed day, and saw nothing but the postman No; it isn't a pity that I hadn't something better to do; I had plenty, but that's my business, Mr. Caudle. I suppose I'm to be mistress of my own house? If not, I'd better leave it.

"And the first night we were here, you know it, the black beetles came into the kitchen. If the place didn't seem spread all over with a black [illegible] if I'm a story teller. What are you coughing at, Mr. Caudle? I see nothing to cough at. But that's just your way of sneering. Millions of black beetles! And as the clock strikes eight, out they march. What? They're very punctual! I [illegible] that. I only wish that other people were as punctual, it would save other people's money and other people's peace of mind. You know I hate a black beetle! No, I don't hate so many things. But I do hate a black beetle, as I hate [illegible] Mr. Caudle And now I have enough of both, goodness knows!

"Last night they came into the [illegible]. Of course, in a night or two, they'll walk up into the bedroom. They'll be here—regiments of them—on the quilt. But what do you care? Nothing of that sort ever touches you, but you know how they come to me—and that's why you are so quiet. A pleasant thing to have black beetles in one's bed! Why don't I poison them? A pretty matter, indeed, to have poison in the house! Much you must think of the dear children. A nice place, too, to be called the Turtle-Dovery! Didn't I christen it myself? I know that,—but then I knew nothing of the black beetles. Besides, [illegible] care for the world outside [illegible] that anybody cares to see ours. Didn't Mrs Digby insist on calling their new house Love in [illegible] though everybody knew that [illegible] Digby was always beating her? Still when folks read Rose Cottage on the wall, they seldom think of the lots of thorns that are growing in this world, Mr. Caudle, [illegible] are sometimes quite as good as [illegible]

"That cough again! You've got a cold, and you'll always be getting one for you'll always be [illegible] and always be getting wet. No constitution can [illegible] it. [illegible]. You don't know what I felt [illegible] it rain on Tuesday, and thought you [illegible] in it. What? I'm very good! Yes, I [illegible]; I try to be so Caudle. And, so [illegible] I've been thinking we'd better keep a chaise. You can't afford it, and you won't? Don't tell me; I know you'd save [illegible] by it. I've been [illegible] what you lay out in [illegible], and if you'd a [illegible] of your own besides the gentility of the thing you'd be money in pocket. And [illegible] how often I could go with you to town [illegible] again, [illegible] call for you when you liked [illegible] the club, [illegible] now you're obliged [illegible] [illegible]. I can't [illegible] and [illegible]

"A [illegible] What? You'll [illegible] a good [illegible] happy to think you [illegible] A [illegible] with [illegible] fully [illegible] Non [illegible] where Chalkpit's [illegible] from? [illegible] He [illegible] and now he's got a [illegible] shall [illegible] standing [illegible] legs on each door, with a heap of [illegible] You may buy the carriage, if you please, Mr. Caudle, but [illegible] your arms are [illegible] you won't get me to enter it. Never! I'm not going to look less than Mrs. Chalkpit

"[illegible] I'm sure my family have, and a wife's arms are quite as good as a [illegible]. I'll write to-morrow to dear [illegible], to know what we look for our family arms. What do you say? A mangle in a [illegible] blue ground? Mr. Caudle, you're always insulting my family—always; but you shall not put me out of temper to-night. Still, if you don't like our arms, find your own. I dare say you [illegible] though, if you [illegible] Miss Prettyman! Well I'll be quiet; and I won't mention that lady's name. A nice lady she is—I wonder how much she spends in paint! Now, don't I tell you I won't say a word—and yet you will [illegible]

"Well we'll have the carriage and the family arms! No; I don't want the family legs too. Don't be vulgar, Mr. Caudle You might, perhaps, talk in that way before you'd money in the bank; but it doesn't at all become you now The carriage and the [illegible] we've a country house as well as the Chalkpits; and though they praise their place for a little Paradise, I dare say they're quite as many black beetles as we have, and more too. The place quite looks it

"Our carriage and our arms! And you know love, it won't cost much next to nothing—to put a gold [illegible] at Sam's hat on Sunday. No, I don't want a full-blown livery. At least, not just yet. I'm told the Chalkpits dress their boy on a [illegible] like a dragoon fly; and I don't see why we [illegible] do what we like with our own Sam Nevertheless, I'll be content with a gold band, and a little bit of pepper-and-salt. No; I shall not cry out for plush next, certainly not But I'll have a gold band—You won't and I know it? Oh yes! that's another of your crotchets, like nobody [illegible] you don't like liveries. I suppose when people buy their sheets, or their table-cloths, or any other [illegible], they've a right to [illegible] what they like upon it, haven't they? Well then? You buy a servant, and you may mark what you like upon him, and where's the difference? None, that I can see."

"Finally," says Caudle, "I compromised for a gig! but Sam did not wear pepper-and salt and a gold band."

THAT'S SO!—Speaking of the defeat of the Union party, the San Francisco Dramatic Chronicle says:

It is a matter within the observation of us all, that the effects of defeat, failure, disappointment, [illegible], are often salutary if not sweet, and to-day the best and most sagacious Republicans, even while smarting with the mortification of their recent reverse perceive and acknowledge the benefits which are likely to result from the painful discipline. It has been generally distinctive of the Republican party that its leaders cannot wield it as a unit, and that it is made up of men whose attachment to ideas is stronger than their attachment to party, and consequently cannot be implicitly relied upon to yield with docility to party discipline. In its origin it was mainly influenced and controlled by men who were humanitarians, philanthropists, reformers and theorists, rather than politicians, and it must be admitted even by its bitterest opponents, that in its origin, however fanatical, it was disinterested and pure. If they desired and struggled for political success it was for the purpose of accomplishing what they considered great humanitarian ends, and not for the purpose of gaining office. And the rank and file of the party partook largely of the characteristics of its leaders. * * * Another re-action is sure to come, in fact it has already set in, and if the Republicans are wise, firm and patient, they may go into the Presidential election with a far better chance of success than they had met with no[illegible].

Greeley says, "The man who pays more for his shop rent than for his advertising don't know his business"

The Armament of Maryland for a Second Rebellion

[Baltimore Correspondence of the Washington Star

The subject of our State militia is almost the absorbing topic of conversation just now in the city It could hardly be otherwise in view of the fact that one four or five thousand militiamen appear nightly under the eyes of the Baltimore public marching hither and thither in squads or companies, uniformed in rebel gray armed to the teeth, and reminding all most forcibly of the constant scenes in our thoroughfares when the preservation of the Union against the treasonable and murderous acts of so many of these same militia officers and men made this city a military occupation a vital necessity I need hardly write you that the Unionists here look upon this organization with great distrust believing that its ulterior purpose is to inaugurate a revolution backed by force of arms The Unionists in it are there, almost to a man, only in order to hold it in check in case it be attempted to use it to an unlawful end Taxpayers too, are beginning to growl over its financial aspect The Legislature at its last session appropriated $25,000 to purchase arms for it, and passed a commutation law requiring all citizens of militia age who declined serving in it to pay two dollars per annum for the privilege of declension, etc This tax, it was alleged, was to pay for uniforming and equipping the forces Thirty thousand dollars was the sum to be thus raised annually according to Governor Swann's figuring. The $25,000 mentioned above has gone for the purpose of artillery and Springfield rifles Instead of $30,000 having been collected for ammunition and militia fines, but $27,000 have found their way from that source into the State Treasury Of that sum $10,000 have gone to pay for drill and meeting room rent, etc., leaving but a balance of some $17,000 applicable in payment for the uniforms at $18 87½ each Already the State has incurred a debt for five thousand of those delivered to Baltimore militiamen Six hundred more are now being made up to be delivered to members of the Sixteenth Regiment That regiment has been raised in St Marys, Charles, Prince George and Carroll counties, where secesh principles universally prevail The total force being enrolled, outside of Baltimore, is 5,000 men So uniforming our State militia is to cost our State taxpayers $188,750 the commutation law to the contrary notwithstanding Maryland is entitled to arms from the General Government only to the value of $2,000 Swann refused them in small arms, demanding artillery, which Stanton first and Grant subsequently refused him The force is now being equipped with Springfield muskets and accouterments, at a cost of about $23 per man, which for the whole 10,000, will amount to an aggregate of $230,000. Add to these enormous sums $183,870 and $280,000, the allowance four dollars per day, for all the officers' horses on parade days, the commissaries' expenses of the grand encampment for drill practice, etc. already provided for, and your readers will see that this mysterious Maryland military organization can hardly fail to cost the State's taxpayers, during the first year of its existence, quite $750,000, and this too, in the face of the formal report of the State Treasurer and Controller declaring the State treasury bankrupt. What the exigency requiring this enormous increase of the State debt can be can only be drawn from the pro rebel demonstration, in words and jeers, of more or less of these militia men, as they tramp our streets nightly. Col. J.C. Mercer, late Colonel of the First Maryland rebel regiment, commands the Fifth Regiment of Maryland Militia. He was wounded severely at Gettysburg, in his effort to destroy the Union. This Fifth is the crack regiment of the force—the "white kid" regiment. The story that the new Constitution provides for the speedy disbandment of this State military force is all bosh. It provides that the Legislature may or may not amend or abolish it at the next session, a year hence, perhaps in the meantime its work will be done, if it has any to do. If not, and there remains a possibility that it may thereafter be able to accomplish anything for the Secesh cause, the men who will compose the next Legislature under the existing order of things in Maryland, will be the last in the world to jeopard its efficiency

A CARD.

MR. EDITOR —You doubtless remember that some time since the Portland Philharmonic Society gave a concert for the benefit of the poor of this city. Soon after the concert, the Society carefully considered the matter, in order to determine the best manner in which to distribute the funds realized therefrom, giving the whole amount to any one [illegible] society was very strongly opposed, and giving it by apportionment to the several societies in our city was deemed impracticable, because unable to ascertain the proportionate relief afforded the city poor by the respective societies Investigation of the subject gave rise to the belief that Portland ought to have a benevolent association representing the whole city, and in which every citizen would feel equally interested; and [illegible] upon such a basis that it would prove to be the [illegible] of Portland in the matter of supplying the wants and relieving the necessities of its indigent citizens; and a resolution was unanimously passed asking the citizens at large to organize an association of this character, and the sum before mentioned was to be paid to such association when organized Considerable time has now elapsed without any action in the premises, and this society has decided to place the money where it can be at once used for the purpose designed, and to this end appointed a committee, consisting of Messrs S. J McCormick, P C Schuyler, Jr, and Jacob Mayer, to disburse the said funds, now amounting to four hundred and sixty (460) dollars including interest

S J McCORMICK, President

EDW QUACKENBUSH, Secretary Portland Philharmonic Society.

The Committee appointed by the Philharmonic Society to disburse the proceeds of the Concert given by the Society for the benefit of the poor of the city, would state that they are prepared to take cognizance of cases of distress requiring charitable aid, irrespective of creed or condition, and will be thankful to citizens who will bring such cases to the notice of either of the undersigned

THE ROYAL BALSAM!

HAS NOW BEEN BEFORE THE PUBLIC FOR A length of time, and wherever used is highly recommended, never failing in a single instance to give permanent relief when timely used, and we have never known a single case of dissatisfaction, but on the contrary all are delighted with it and speak in the highest terms of its magical effects. The astonishing efficacy of the ROYAL BALSAM, in curing the disease for which it is recommended entitles it to the highest rank among the list of medicines, and no family can be without it after once trying it.

Read the following testimonials from some of the most [illegible] citizens of Oregon

MIRACULOUS CURE.

DR. HENLEY—Dear Sir I feel it but a duty to inform you and the public what a miraculous effect your Royal Balsam had on my wife She had been [illegible] with a severe cough for several weeks, [illegible] had assumed a dangerous feature, for which many physicians have been trying without any material benefit, and all thereof [illegible] failed to give her any relief. Without relief was got I feared for the worst, in her present condition. The cough appeared to be worse at night, she could get no rest—when Mr. Randall, of this place, advised me to try your Royal Balsam; all other remedies having failed, I concluded to try it, and I purchased two bottles [illegible] say, by the time I gave her three [illegible] of the Balsam she got relief, and slept, a thing she had not done for three nights previous. By the time she had taken one bottle the cough was checked. Its effect was truly miraculous, as the cure was effectual Hence, I have no hesitation in recommending the Royal Balsam to all who are afflicted, and it appears astonishing to me that [illegible] of such great merit, and I might say magical effect, is not more in use My candid opinion is, if [illegible] once, they never be without it in the house.

Vancouver, March 1, 1867 H COCHRAN

From Wm. Doty.

North Yamhill, July 15 1867

DEAR DR. HENLEY—It is with sincere gratitude I undertake to write to you, what your Royal Balsam has done for me For the last 12 years I have been afflicted with a severe cough and what also some of the physicians called the Bronchitis and have spent a fortune to get cured, trying all the physicians and remedies I could get to no purpose, Through the influence of my neighbors (for you have a great name with them here,) I got a bottle of your Royal Balsam and finding that it relieved me considerable I sent for a half dozen more And now after one month using it I am perfectly cured I gained ten pounds within a month and feel quite a different man I send you this for publication for the benefit of humanity that through my experience others in affliction may be relieved as I have been Yours truly

WILLIAM DOTY.

From Sophia M. Holman.

DEAR DR HENLEY—It is my duty to inform you and the public, what a miraculous effect your Royal Balsam had on my children Two of them had a very bad cough and cold I got a bottle of the Royal Balsam and gave them some at bedtime and some in the morning and that was all that was needed to cure them I was astonished at not hearing them cough again but so it was I find if you give it in larger doses it will make the children throw up in an instant and I think every mother ought to have a bottle of your Royal Balsam in the house, in case a child should get the croup for which it is a sure remedy as it acts like magic on children What I have seen and heard from my neighbors about the Royal Balsam I would sooner depend on it than on any prescription from any physician I have lost two children within the last year of the same disease had I had at the time some of the Royal Balsam I am confident my dear ones would be alive now I shall always recommend it to all my friends, for I consider it a blessing and godsend to mankind

Yours truly, SOPHIA M HOLMAN

From Drs. Bell & Parker.

We have sold a great deal of Medicine since we have been in business, and now have fifteen different kinds of Expectorants for sale But Dr Henley's Royal Balsam takes the palm from all In fact, we sell six bottles of Royal Balsam to one of any other kind—and really it seems of no use to keep any other During our experience we have never seen any medicine that gives the satisfaction the Royal Balsam does, as is proven by the results daily coming in from the country of old Chronic cases when nothing else would remove the dreadful cough they had I find it is good for Bronchitis and Asthma We acknowledge it is a pleasure to sell medicine that gives such universal satisfaction

BELL & PARKER,
Druggists, Oregon City

From W. F. Barber.

DR HENLEY—Dear Sir I had the Asthma for the last four years so bad that it came near choking me I tried all the patent medicines recommended for the cure of Asthma without doing me the least good, till I was told to try some of your Royal Balsam, which on several afflicted with the same disease has performed wonders. I am using it now for a week and strange to say I have not experienced anything since, and I really believe that I am perfectly cured, anyhow I shall never be without a bottle of the Royal Balsam in the house in case of a similar attack, and I have no hesitation in recommending it to all afflicted with the same disease

I am Yours truly,
W F BARBER

From J. H. Morril.

DEAR DR HENLEY—I think it but justice to you that these few lines should be made known to the public for there is so much humbug going on in patent medicines and quack nostrums now-a days that I had lost all faith in everything in the shape of medicine I was affected with what is called Bronchitis for the last thirty years, I coughed and wheezed for an hour at a time, I tried some of the best physicians in the Atlantic States and on this coast, all to no purpose I could get no relief and I really thought there was no relief for me in the world I was induced to try a bottle of your Royal Balsam and it had a most remarkable effect on me and before I had used up four bottles the cough left me and I can talk as loud as anybody my wife and neighbors don't know what to make of it My opinion is that if they knew the value of the Royal Balsam there is not a family in the country that would be without it I think there is not a better medicine in existence for Bronchitis or cough than the Royal Balsam, and I conscientiously recommend to all so afflicted to give it a fair trial

I remain yours, truly

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of [illegible] indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places He therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes; pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove [illegible] rily to him that he was cured of this complaint by [illegible] of the San Francisco quacks

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are [illegible] under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

TO THE LADIES.

The various complicated and distressing diseases incident to females, treated with eminent success. Such as Suppressions Irregularities, Whites Falling of the Womb, Tumors, all Urinary Diseases, Nervous Debility, Painful or Difficult Menstruation, Barrenness, etc., will be speedily cured, without poisonous drugs, injuries or unpalatable medicines of any kind Have no delicacy in calling, no difference what your troubles may be. The afflicted are cordially invited to call and satisfy themselves

Persons calling at Dr Gibbon's office or sending for packages of medicines, may rely upon his assurances of confidential secrecy with implicit faith, and expect no more than to be charged with, a fair, and mutually satisfactory remuneration for services rendered, considering the circumstances and difficulties of cases, rather than a too prevalent and selfish practice of extortion among quacks and pretenders.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.
